Political environment

Founded in 1278, the Principality of Andorra has been neutral and independent for over 700 years. In 1993, the Principality of Andorra approved its constitution, thus attaining full international recognition as a sovereign nation following the rule of law.

The country operates as a parliamentary democracy, with a head of government elected by the Consell General (Andorran parliament). The State is structured as a parliamentary co-principality, with two heads of state (the President of the French Republic and the Bishop of Urgell), who jointly hold an indivisible role.

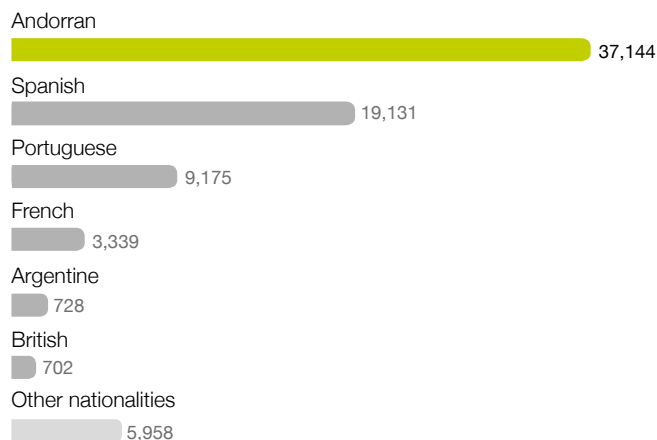

Andorra has been a member of the UN and the European Council since 1993. Although it is not a member of the EU, its legal currency is the euro thanks to a monetary agreement with the EU. It has historically maintained close relations with Europe, and in particular with Spain, France and Portugal.

Socioeconomic environment

Andorra offers an advanced economy, based on an open and flexible free market. GDP per capita is over €35,000, higher than the European average and that of Spain and France.

Its economic activity is mainly based on services. This sector encompasses 90% of the country's businesses and represents 83% of jobs. Trade and tourism account for nearly half of the employment of the services industry. These jobs are dedicated to looking after the over 8 million visitors that visit the Principality every year, attracted by a selection of leisure activities mainly revolving around skiing and alike, also including shopping.

The financial sector is another cornerstone of the Andorran economy, presently undergoing a transformation process in order to adapt to the standards established by the EU and the OECD.
